Manifest Serious Moola Playsheet

Consider TODAY your lucky day. Some entrepreneurs work their tail off for years and still can't increase their income. But that doesn't have to be you.

Why wait?!

Why stand in the queue waiting for money when you can just go straight to the VIP entrance?!

How do you do that? Crank up your money mojo to speed things up with some double-dog-dare kind of fun.

There are 7 easy steps in this formula, and you're gonna love 'em!

Step 1 Work Your Desire Muscle

What's the most amount of money you can imagine manifesting in the next 30 days?

Don't worry about HOW you're gonna make the money right now. You're just powwowing with money... heart-to-heart. Feel into it, and whatever number pops up... roll with it.

Step 2 Increase the Booty

Whatever number you came up with, double it.
So if your number was $100,000, it's now $200,000.

What's your doubled number? _____

Why double it? To get out of your head. To expand your creative juices. To get some fire behind your desire. To go beyond what you believe. To get A LOT better at receiving. To stretch into new territory... just for the fun of it.

Step 3 Give It Life

Choosing money goals doesn't do squat when it's just talk. You have to escort it from a wish to decision. So do that now. Decide to have the money in 30 days.

Lock it in by saying out loud: "In the next 30 days I'm manifesting _____."

Step 4 Stoke the Fire

If you feel ANY tension before, during, or after your decision to manifest that money in 30 days... ask yourself why?

Then decide if you're willing to release the myth, story, or excuse since it's painful and getting in the way of receiving what you came here to do.

Surrender to the choice you made. Be at peace with releasing... or keeping those nasty thoughts without judgment.

Say it out loud to affirm your conscious decision: "I choose to _____."

Step 5 Full Throttle

Regardless of what you chose in step 4, do this step. Take a deep breath in and connect into your higher self—the part of you that knows making money is no big deal for you. Then answer this question in your head or use as a journaling prompt...

What's the full-throttle action/s that will move the money into my life in the next 30 days?

Step 6

The No-Kidding Questions

If your life depended on you manifesting that money in the next 30 days, would your full-throttle action be different?

If your life depended on it, how would you approach this manifestation each day?

What does money want you to know if you no-kidding want to let the money in?

Step 1

The Fun Zone

Make this type of manifestation easy by wrapping the whole thing in a ball of kickass energy. You're doing this for the fun of receiving that much money. Remember, there is no reason to wait.

There's no reason to drag out manifestation. There's no reason to take hundreds of small steps if you can just take a few big ones.

What will keep this full-throttle energy in the fun zone, while you continue to make it real?

Do the 7-step process every day for the next 30 days for best results.

Cheers to skipping to the front of the line in one fell swoop!

Want to make sure you stay in the moneymaking zone without sacrificing one damn thing?

a simple'n easy way for you to get in the flow and stay there!
